Bill Tanguis, a contractor in New Orleans, agrees with the city that the construction wasn't properly inspected. What he doesn't agree with, he says, is that it is his fault. He says that it was the contractor's job to call for inspections and that he questioned Carpenter on the matter.

Get ready for the Dixie-style World Series big Fishing Rodeo and Fest Crab and several other major events are behind us, we can now place our efforts on the 2004 Tim Neely Hancock County Classic Dixie Softball World Series.

The series will be the week of July 30 - August 5, with the Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland and Hancock County the sponsors.

The games are to be played at the Bay St. Louis Sports Complex.

As you can remember, last year, the Dixie Pony Tails World Series was held in Bay St. Louis and voted a major success by league officials.

This year's group will • be 9 and 10-year-old girls from 11 states and our own Bay St. star team:

Lonnie Falgout of Bay St. Louis is once again the tournament chairman, and is looking forward to some 1800 visitors coming for the World Series in Bay St. Louis.

Falgout said, he has already had several volunteers come forward who have offered to help with World Series, but that the can still use more. There are all types of volunteer positions available at the World Series and any person could help as much as he or she would > Falgout can reached at 228-216-0133, or Bay St. Louis City Hall, 228-467-9092.

One of the highest highlights of last year's World Series, was the Mardi Gras parade kickoff on opening night; and once again, a special parade is scheduled for the dozen participating team members.

Falgout says he is still receiving complimentary comments about last parade from year's league officials.

Another area where help would be handy is in the form of donations from corporate and local individuals, according to Falgout.

Just give him a call if you have any questions. Donations are tax deductible.

Once again we need to roll out the 'red carpet' for our Dixie World Series visitors, just show them how great the people of Hancock County

I don't know how many Mississippi white adults saw the exhibit during the five months it was on disDetroit.

But not enough, I'm sure. after Probably not as many young African-Americans should have, either. At the outset, it must be pointed out that the photographs, taken as far back as the 1880s, only depict a few lynchings that took place in Mississippi, and are mostly lynchings in other states, surprisingly from as far as Ohio and North Nebraska.

In all, the photos represent just a portion of the more than 3,400 known lynchings in records compiled by Tuskegee Institute, between the years of 1890 play before moving on to and 1931. By far, the 1920s local newspaper saw the most lynchings.

By the way, Mississippi, with 345 lynchings in the Tuskegee study, was not the state with the highest number, being nosed out by Georgia.

James Allen, the Atlanta antiques and art dealer who assembled and owns the collection of lynching photos, and related materials, believes based on his own. study that the widely-used sion. figure of 3,400 total lynchings is far too low.

.I think it is two or three times above the figure that academics have come up with," he says, adding that recorded lynchings reflect only those that were reported by newspapers or some written document. "Many others went unreported," Allen says.

One printed item in the collection is the copy of a Letter to the Editor:

How will the history books read? Our past is repeating itself again. In Vietnam we won the battle but lost the war. The same seems to be happening again. While we were in Vietnam we had to be politically correct" so that our generals were held in check. As the causalities went up so did the protest here in the United States. So as the soldiers came home to a country that was full of hate about the war our solders came home hating themselves for their actions over in Vietnam. We all know that we could have marched over Vietnam easily. That 'our" great government was just full of greed. If it were up to our government we would still be fighting in the. jungle in Vietnam.

But now some 40 years later, we throw the politi-cian's out and let the generals fight the war. We win every battle and the war. But we do not win the people. Now our troops are faced with terror. The faithful soldier, over there and doing his/her job, it doesn't matter, they have to deal with snippers, rocket bombs, car bombs, booby traps and much more.

As In Vietnam, they are fighting an enemy that they can not see. For how long, no one knows. I do know this, its a hard enemy to deal with as a soldier. You take hits and causalities with nothing to hit back at, and no end in site, but again our troops are giving it their all. Again, like Vietnam, as the causalities go up, so do the protest. People, no matter what party you belong to, no matter how you feel about the government, no matter what you think, remember they are there in a foreign country to keep us safe here at home, we don't want another Vietnam, please don't let that happen again, PLEASE SUPPORT OUR TROOPS!

Man's inhumanity to man, to say the least. But another word that has currency comes to mind here: terrorism.

That was at the root of why a mob or gaggle of vigilantes would render what they considered justice for some perceived wrong committed by a black person or persons rather than allow the legal system to run its course.

A more sinister message of lynchings was to send terror throughout the black community, a cruel weapon to enforce white supremacy. in the post-Civil War years.

Colorado girl 'hoops' it up at Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo

Josephine Hinkley, 9years-old, of Grand Junction Colorado, won 1st place in the Kids' Hula Hoop Contest at the 56th Annual Mississippi Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo in Gulfport.

In April of this year, Senate Bill 2777 was signed by Governor Barbour stating that it is unlawful for anyone to operate a motor vehicle in a highway work zone at a speed in excess of the maximum speed limit established, whenever workers are present. The law went into effect July

For a first time offense, a speeding motorist will be fined no more than $250. For second, third and subsequent offenses, the maximum fine will be doubled: MDOT will be placing signs approaching work zones that read "when workers are present, speeding fines doubled".

According to MDOT Executive Director Larry L. "Butch" Brown, contractors also benefit from this legislation. "Members of the Mississippi Road Builders Association, the Rederal Highway Administration and other agencies involved in highway construction am glad to see this law go into effect for the safety of our workers."

Brown also thanked the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol and local law enforcement for their diligence in ticketing those motorists speeding through work zones, "This law in and of itself, wouldn't mean near as much without the efforts of the Highway Patrol," Brown said. "Enforcement is key in getting motorists to stop speeding through work zones."

MHSP Colonel Marvin E. Curtis points out that most of the injuries and fatalities that occur in work zones crashes involve motorists, not highway workers. "We want motorists to understand that slowing down in work zones is for their own safety. Safety of the motoring public is a mission that MDOT and MHSP share. and we are glad to work together in this endeavor."

The next few weeks are expected to be busy as potential candidates hurry to qualify. City secretary Lisa Planchard said Tuesday that she had already received several inquires and requests for voter roles for Ward 1. Candidates may qualify up to 10 days before the election, Planchard said.

TEN YEARS AGO

July 7, 1994 - Recycling is returning to Hancock County The Board of Supervisors voted Tuesday to pay for putting three recycling collection centers back into place for rural resident's use, in addition to the center operating at Stennis Space Center. The additional centers are slated for installation at the Standard Landfill, the county's North Barn on Highway 43, and at Waveland-Chapman roads.

The officers elected for the Waveland Civic Association for the year were: Fountain, president; Shorty Necaise, vice-president; Richard Smith, secretary; Bob Otis, treasurer; and Buddy Williams, sergeant-at-arms.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

July 5, 1984 A former Hancock County, Jail, pris-oner has filed suit in U.S. District Court against Sheriff Ronald Peterson and a jailer. The prisoner, who is now in the state penitentiary at Parchman; com-plains in his suit that he was deprived of his Eighth and 14th Amendment rights while confined to the jail. The prisoner was arrested in June, 1983 on armed robbery charges, according to Peterson and was sentenced to 10 years in the state penitentiary after pleading guilty. "I remember the prisoner," Peterson said, "He never did complain to us and we will deny all charges," he said. "I'm sure conditions in the jail had something to do with the number of suits, but I think we have some of them because when they (prisoners) get up to Parchman they have nothing better to do," he commented.

-Tax Assessor Eddie Murtagh presented Hancock County's new land rolls to be board of supervisors Monday. The assessed valuations for real and personal property on the land rolls are the result of a recently completed reappraisal and total more that $100 million. However, Murtagh estimated the addition of the valuation of utilities, which are set by the State Tax Commission could raise the amount to over $120 million.
